Hunter Diana Palmer

New York Times bestselling author Diana Palmer serves up HUNTER, a fan-favorite Man of the Month, for your reading pleasure!

Phillip Hunter is a strong, independent loner who bears his Native-American heritage with pride. He's also able to overcome the most life-threatening dangers with ease. But his next assignment as chief of security for a top-secret operation brings him into contact with geologist Jennifer Marist. Suddenly, Hunter finds himself tempted to overstep his orders to protect Jenny from all danger and take her into his arms...

The mission soon proves the ultimate challenge of his career—spending a week on the rugged Arizona plains with the one woman he yearns for above all others, and the one he is determined to keep at arm's length. But Hunter never planned on facing the allure of Jenny's wild, sweet passion—or on discovering a love he'd never dared dream could be his.

From Reader Review Hunter for online ebook

Janie says

Glad to see that there will be a reissue of this on August 17 2015 (in 10 days!!) hope they have a lovely new cover for the book.

Haven't reread this book since 2010, so can't remember much about it. Will need to reread. I'm sure I enjoyed it a lot as its a DP book.

Ann Keller says

I really enjoyed the Apache angle on this book.

Jenny says

Hunter is your typical DP hero. He is attracted to Jennifer a beautiful geologist but he is insecure, a loner and has mother issues. He is an Apache so he believes Jennifer is not for him that she can never be a part of his world.

Jennifer is in love with him and she wants everything with Hunter but he won't let her in even though it's obvious he lusts after her. Poor girl she really had her heart broken cause of Hunter's rejection. I was rooting so bad for her to get her HEA!

This book had great angst, sweet love scenes and sizzling chemistry! I loved it!

Amanda Sheila says

Not exactly my favorite. I mean, Hunter's typical Diana Palmer's jerkass hero, but I think this Hunter guy is kind of annoying. I didn't get their chemistry. :/

But I did enjoyed this book as much as any other Diana Palmer. Nice. :)

Janet says

hunter was the strong silent type who didn't want to be attracted to jennifer but was so he did and said things to hurt her but can he save them both at the end or trust love

Claudie Woods says

Great story

Another great story from my favorite author. Diana Palmer has a wonderful gift of story telling. I love how she uses character's from other books.

Sweet Sparring Romance

FINAL DECISION: This is a light novel with a sparring romance between the hero and heroine. A cross-cultural romance with characters who are good people and compassionate, I enjoyed their interplay and the lack of cruel behavior by the hero.

THE STORY: Jennifer Marist is a blond geologist who works in a male field and has been separated from most men as a result. She is twenty-seven but hasn't had a serious relationship because of her career. Phillip Hunter is chief of security for Ritter Oil and is tasked with secret operations. When Jennifer's work requires her to spend a week in the desert, Hunter is sent along to protect her. Hunter is determined to not succumb to his attraction to Jennifer. As a Native American, he has sworn never to get involved with a white woman again. So his predicament is this -- keep Jennifer at a distance while protecting her.

OPINION: I really liked the connection between Hunter and Jennifer. This book was originally published as a category romance and thus is short and had restrictions on the length and content at the time it was written. Despite this, however, the sweet romance between Hunter and Jennifer shines through. I especially like how the two characters spar with one another and how Hunter has made a habit of rescuing Jennifer from the trouble she gets into. Hunter is one of the sweet Palmer heroes...compassionate and gentle rather than rude and angry.

WORTH MENTIONING: At times Palmer heroes are exceptionally cruel to the heroines because they either misunderstand the motivations of the heroine or don't appreciate her innocence. Hunter doesn't want to get involved with Jennifer, but he is much kinder toward her than might be expected in a Palmer book.

CONNECTED BOOKS: HUNTER is connected with HIS GIRL FRIDAY but can be read as a standalone.

STAR RATING: I give this book 4 stars.

Michele bookloverforever says

plot was a little thin. didn't like the hero at all.

Kelsey says

oh dearie. it had to happen sometime in my life. and 5 hours into the 40 hour train ride to perth was as good a time as any to read my first book in this genre. trashy, dumb, irritating, weak female characters, dodo men, stupid. and okay fine, mildly entertaining. but i will not be searching out any other romantic novels in the foreseeable future.

Marisa says

El protagonista en toda la novela es "odioso" con la protagonista pero esta novela tiene una de las escenas que más me han conmovido, sin descubrir nada la escena del espejo es en mi opinión de las más románticas.

Finn says

Two of the dumbest people you're likely to meet acting like emotional retard. One star is even too much

Jen and hunter

Not the western romance but love Ritter oil romance. Fun read.
Glad they both stop fighting and work together with cultural differences.
