Cynthia says

It was fun reading this book as I felt really connected to the characters: One was named Silas (my father-in-laws name)another was Ross (my married last name) and Larry (my husband's name.)

I finished reading The Long Road Home and have come to love Lori Wicks as an author. This is an endearing story about 2 young widowed people and how God brought them together. The widower turned from God when he lost his wife but the widow turn TO God when she lost her husband. The author includes God and the salvation message throughout the book. Now I am reading the second one, A Gathering of Memories and in just a few pages, the author has me wanting to read more.
