Uzma says

As with other Seerah books, this book contains numerous examples from the life of the Prophet [sallAllahu `alayhi wa sallam] that teach us manners and etiquette. It seems the book has been particularly written from the daa`ee's perspective, an educator or a community leader because they are tasked to reform people.

One important teaching given in the book was to consider the age, circumstances and background of the one who commits a mistake. Our aim should be to reform the person and not alienate them.
