Adjacent: A Building 402 Novella Alexandra Warren

He's the last guy she should be checking for.

Arrogant.

Sexy.

A Certified F*ckboy.

She's the only girl he can't seem to get off of his mind.

Ambitious.

Attractive.

Adjacent.

The proximity of them being neighbors certainly doesn't help either of their causes. And when one side is ready to pursue their curiosity about the person next door, it quickly becomes clear that anything goes in Building 402...

Note: While this book tells a complete story, it is a novella meaning it is shorter in length by design. If you prefer your stories longer, I'd recommend checking out another Alexandra Warren project. :)

Quick two hour entertainment ♥?

This was cute! I loved the vibe between Aj and Eve. They were very entertaining as well grandma lol. I caught myself smiling a few times throughout the book. I even had “oh hell nah” moments too! Hopefully, we can find out a little more about Eve and Aj through the other tenants stories. As always Ms. Warren you did your thang girl!

Check this out novella, you will not be disappointed. Well maybe just a little because it leave you for wanting more but as it's says it's a novella.

Well

Oh Alexandra, this is why you are one of my top faves. This was so good and refreshing. Not any drama. The couple didn't take long to get together and keep it that way. Great read!!

Dee Cherry says

I found my 1st read by this author an enjoyable one. It was good Arthur was able to back up the words he spoke for Eve was not one to play. Well rounded characters & nicely flowing storyline has me looking forward to reading more of these novellas.

Short. Simple. Sweet

I'm glad Arthur stepped up to the plate and didn't let Eve's demeanor push him away. They were really cute together

Vernell Howard says

Cute!

This was a very short, sweet, cute and beautifully orchestrated story of two neighbors that were feeling each other and themselves, literally. The chemistry between A.J. and Eve were off the charts. Their cute, funny, bad boy and bad girl vibe, nonchalant banter towards each other was definitely prevalent, because of the gravitational pull that they couldn't control. I'm just glad their attraction for one another put them on a path of a new discovery of my favorite end to every story I read and that's to experience, that trip, that journey of L-O-V-E. Great Story! ReneeG ?

I want more

OMG it was just getting good. I wanted the story to continue. Eve and AJ make the best couple. When a man know he knows. All the other girls will disappear you just have to know when he is being honest and up front that it is the real deal.

V. Verne says

Out of all of Alexandra's releases, this one has to go in the top three favorites. If Only For The Summer and Love At First Spite are my other two favs. Art made arrogance look incredibly sexy and the chemistry between him and Eve was hot! Looking forward to what and who comes next from Building 402. Super cute read!

Carolyn J. says

So dang good

A man whose next door had to listen to him pound sounded like a fun story. The way the author wove the hero's fun moments with his later serious moments cannot be overstated. Arthur was a girls dream or worst nightmare, depending on which way you perceive his actions. Eve having to listen to his pounding beats and lust after this man was maddening. The story was put your foot in it and stand up shouting good. Ijs!

GREAT READ

My first time reading this authors work and I enjoyed reading this story. Very well written storyline and the character development is great. I loved AJ and Eve's story of neighbors who are secretly lusting after each other. The chemistry between them could no longer be denied and when they decided to take it to the next level, they knew right then they were made for each other. Beautiful love story.

Actions Speak Louder Than Words

I wasn't sure how to take A.J. at first because he was definitely a f*ckboy, but his actions spoke of his character and his heart. Even though Eve was in denial, he could see the truth and also see that he would have to come correct if he wanted something real for the first time in his life. Now Big Mama was the welcomed surprise! She was beyond hilarious. I needed more of her in my life. I can't wait until Law's book comes out because I can already see he is trouble.

Hello Neighbor ♥

After Wins & Losses, I've been anxiously awaiting another book. I was so happy when I stumbled upon Alexandra's IG and saw this book was coming. Now at first, I was a little nervous with it being a novella. I've read a few good novellas, but most of the time I'm left unsatisfied. But what can I say, Alexandra delivered an entertaining/satisfying novella.... but I'm not surprised as she always delivers.

If I could describe Adjacent in one word, I'd say sexy. Almost too sexy. I found myself peeking outside of my apartment building in search of a fine a neighbor to help me get through these classes I'm starting in a few weeks....

& What I liked the most is that A.J wasn't a perfect character. We have these romances where you have the perfect man. You know they type. The type that shows up and boom he's what you been waiting for your whole life. But instead we have A.J, who had women slipping in between his sheets faster than he could change. I loved seeing his growth from being a player to a hopeless romantic!

Now I can't wait until to hear from Lawson, especially since that man was described to look like Trevante Rhodes!

Rena says

Witty, fun, and plenty of laughs

This novella is witty, fun, and provides plenty of laughs. Eve is the opposite of the women that AJ usually encounters because she knows how to say no. He had to earn her and her trust. AJ gave Eve the confidence and push to go after her dream job. After finally giving him a chance, AJ and Eve really get to explore how good they are together. And Big Mama, that's my girl. No filter whatsoever and I love her. She had me cracking up. Looking forward to reading more about Building 402.

Nee says

So hilarious!!!!???

I just loved this short story!!! Eve keeps it real and wasn't afraid to speak her mind!! The things she was stating were true FACTS on what us as woman be thinking! Lollll Big mama is a true one! I love A.J. As well he's a real charming flirt but in a good way especially with the one person he really want to be with which is no one other than his next door neighbor Eve!! ?? thanks Alexandra i truly enjoyed reading this Novella??

Rashoda says

Not my cup of tea

Ok read I guess, don't like that I couldn't find out how life turned out for both Eve an AJ...I wanted to go through all the drama and loving moments... The book started off with them being neighbors to them having a couple nights together and nothing else.. so boring. I wanted to see what happened with the job, was he gonna get her pregnant, married her.. those other women continue to test Eve. Like I feel like this book wasted my time. Very short and was not worth reading.

Lena says

Can I move in?

I loved this introduction to the lives and loves of Building 402. Eve is feisty and Art is sexy as hell. Too bad Eve isn't with Art's efforts to get to know her; she's learned all she needs to know because they share a bedroom wall. Together, they have a playfully hateful banter as neighbors that makes you want to see them on each other's good side. Although shorter, this book was no less satisfying than Warren's other books. I definitely enjoyed it and can't wait to read more about this apartment!
