Wild Angel Payne

The boys of the Special Forces battalion are back.

Five mini-episodes give emotional updates for the couples with whom you've fallen in love during the series' first three books, as well as a not-to-be-missed preview of what's in store for Tait Bommer and Kellan Rush in Wet, book five in the Honor Bound series.

“Raze the Barn”: Garrett and Sage reignite their flame as Dominant and submissive during a well-timed visit to see Wyatt and Josie on the farm, and a visit to “kinky barn” that neither will soon forget.

“Tie the Knots”: Garrett and Sage have finally said “I do,” but the knot-tying lessons have just begun for Zeke and Rayna, the best man and maid of honor who only have eyes—and other body parts—for each other.

“Diamonds In The Rain”: Ethan is taking Ava home to meet his parents, but when a mansion full of friends is invited for the occasion, there's a storm of deeper conflict for the couple, requiring Runway to expose his “inner Dom” in a decadent new way.

“Glacier Girl”: Josie is burned-out and emotionally frozen until Wyatt whisks her away for a weekend full of erotic surprises—and one shocking surprise guest.

“Moonrise”: Their road to love was filled with the craziest twists life could deal before it completely blew up the route. Now, Luna is locked from Tait in a night that doesn't seem to have an end. Can he bring the light of love back to her?

The entire W.I.L.D. Boys of Special Forces series is fantastic, so it's no surprise that I absolutely LOVED this bundle of stories. What's not to love? We are reunited with these sexy, dominant men and their kick-ass counterparts. Not only does Angel Payne create these amazing characters, she also does a great job transporting us to the scenes and making us feel the same emotions as these wonderful characters that we have grown to love. No sugar coating in these stories at all. Garrett, Sage, Zeke, Rayna, Ethan, Ava, and my new favorite WILD boy Tait goes through some really tough situations. Situations that people and couples go through all the time in everyday life. It's heartbreaking, emotionally draining, and beautiful, and YES you experience all that in only 160 pages or so. I told you Angel Payne was a freakin' genius!

I pretty much yelled and cried while reading every one of these short stories, but the last story took the cake! If you have been following these books, than you are familiar with my man, Tait Bommer. You will not be prepared for what happens in his story. I wasn't, and I'm a hardcore fan of this series. Just take a deep breath and know that Ms. Payne has never steered us wrong in the past, and I have faith that this W.I.L.D. boy will get his happy ending.

Just remember before you start any W.I.L.D. Boy book you need to....

“Stretch before breakfast. And eat all your protein.”

You are going to need all your energy to keep up with these gorgeous men!

The first 3 stories were really good and I loved getting to see where are couple from the first 3 books are at and what they're up to. The fourth story broke my heart and made me ridiculously excited for the next book in the W.I.L.D. boys series! I love Angel and her amazing books!

Kim O'Daniel says

I'm so happy she has written a book of short stories a contuie for each book make sure you read the others before you read book four and read four before you read wet for her Sargent's as you be a little lost.and will spoil book one through book three if you read this first hope she writes another like this further down the line

Kaylyn says

This is a great book! I love getting to revisit characters from previous books but this went above and beyond. We got a chapter of their lives and it left me wanting so much more. If you haven't read books 1-3 DO NOT read this. It is by no means a standalone.

The first story is about Garret and Sage. I love their relationship. Their dynamic supports that love conquers all. I loved seeing Wyatt and Josie. They helped Garret and Sage's so much that you can't help but love them. It was very unique to see the author show post-partum depression. I hadn't seen that in anything I have read before. But that is part of why I love Angel book's she always takes things to a level that I haven't been before.

Oh Zeke.... Man you love making things hard don't you. Lol Rayna and Zeke are made for each other the only problem Zeke doesn't think he is the man to make her happy. Well a stranger shows him how wrong he is and how much you do not want to mess with Zeke.

Ethan and Ava are so cute together. After everything they went through I felt so bad they had to work over more hurdles. I understand Ava being hesitate that she won't fit into his world because of their backgrounds are nothing alike and I liked how Ethan showed her different. I don't think I will be forgiving his mother anytime soon though. Lol

Spoiler~ The last story made me sob like a damn baby. I am serious have a whole damn box of tissues available because you will need them. In fact I was so mad that she died I put down the kindle and walked away. I was determined not to finish it... but I know it would be worth it. So I pulled up my big girl panties and finished it. I am so glad I did because I know book 5 is going to awesome!

I have a huge weakness for army men and Angel Payne knows how to write them. Her stories are always amazing and I have yet to find something she wrote that I didn't like. I highly recommend this series you won't regret it.

~Special thank you to the author for a copy of this book in exchange for an honest review.~

OK I HAVE TO PREFACE THIS REVIEW!! Angel Payne is a good friend of mine, however, she also knows me well enough to know I don't give BS REVIEWS!!

So when I say I LOVED LOVED LOVED this book I mean it.

Angel gave us updates on our favorite WILDer Boys, and finding out what happened AFTER their books was a welcome and happy thing to the reader UNTIL..... SOBS well... you'll find out.

Angel has a way with her writing that brings us as the reader into the story. She FORCES us to fall in love with these wild and dominant men, from Hawk to Garrett and Zeke and my own new personal fave Tait!! all I can say is I CANNOT WAIT for Tait's book to come out!!

This is a serious MUST READ!!!

Ayekah says

This is a book of shorts with each couple from the series, in different situations in their life. Each going through different issues and mainly consist of their D/s relationships.

My favorite of the book was Rayna and Z. I like their characters. I liked the way they interacted and for me are the most real out of the couples. Their story had spark.

Spark, something I wanted from the rest of the stories and didn't feel it. I thought the stories were a little on the light side for being D/s based. The characters that previously seemed to be front and center kind of receded in this one. It lacked in a couple areas, mainly feeling and no real sense of spark between any of the couples. It left me wanting. That about says it.

Lisa says

Oh Angel!! You tore me to pieces and rebuilt me all in these stories!

The WILD boys are back!! Amazing short stories that allow you to catch up in the lives of your favorite couples as they struggle towards happiness. Be prepared for some tears and scorching hot scenes. Wonderland is four sexy reading gifts and an extreme tease in the finale! I can not wait for Angel Payne's next in the series!

The wait is almost over!! Wet for her Warriors will be here soon!

Robin says

Brought tears to my eyes. A beautiful addition to the series. Can't wait for the next one.

I received a copy of this novel via NetGalley in exchange for an honest review.

One word: Wow!

Starting off, I had only read Saved before I picked up Wild. Wild is book four and a collection of short stories based on the characters in the previous novels and a novella intro to Wet. I was a bit confused at times, so I will say read the others before you read Wild. Angel Payne is very descriptive though so even though I hadn't read book two or three, I still was able to figure out what all I missed out on.

I loved Garrett and Sage in Saved so I loved being able to reconnect with them here. I loved meeting the new to me characters and I cannot wait to read their full stories. Can we talk about that final novella too!? Ugh, poor Tait. You'll see what I'm talking about. Check out the Honor Bound series if you haven't all ready. You will NOT be dissappointed.

Gisele says

I have read all of the WILDer stories and loved them all tremendously. When I got to the last story in this book ... well to say that I was upset is putting it very mildly. I felt betrayed by the author. I read these books to escape from life for a little while and to experience the HEAs of the characters. This story left a really bad taste in my mouth. I certainly hope that the next book makes up for the disappointment of this one last story.

Amanda McCalip says

Wild is right!

Wild was such a fun read! In Wild we got to catch up with all the characters from the previous books and I absolutely loved it. It was definitely interesting seeing how Sage has handled motherhood and catching up with her and Garrett. How Zeke discovers he can do things he once thought he couldn't with Rayna. I absolutely adore Ethan and Ava! I wanted to go even more in depth with them but I was totally left satisfied, it just happens to be Ethan is my favorite so far. Wyatt and Josie were amazing and I loved learning more about them! When it came to the last catch up with Tait "Weasley" and Luna, I got hit with all the feels. I can't wait to read the next book to see what happens with Tait.

Angel really never disappoints! I absolutely LOVE her books! This is another MUST read!

T.L. Reeve says

What the hell, Angel...Luna? LUNA?! I thought I was your wing woman, your pal, your compadre...pfft. I had your 6 and you abandoned me. cries Stops I guess I should review the whole book first.

I must start this with a disclaimer:

If you are reading these stories before the others. STOP! Go back, read them first...LUNA!!!! COME ON, ANGEL!!! Coughs Oh and kind of a little spoiler...tiny...a speck...dust in the wind. Don't read if you don't want to know. Shhhhh...

Where was I? Oh yes, A WILDer Wonderland.

I love Zeke. Absolutely adore him. Rayna and he are to die for in the smexy department. And, they happen burn the house down with their lovemaking. Yet, I have to admit, I wasn't exactly sure how Angel was going to work this one out. I clears throat actually thought she was going to break them apart for a moment there. glares But, in the end, I knew good old Zsycho would pull through. Although, for another second, I thought, Angel tricked me, its not really going to end the way I thought it was. You saved it, Angel. You complete me.

smirks I'm doing these out of order...I'm a rebel that way. Anarchy is my shield and sarcasm and wit are my blades...Don't ask me how I use them both at the same time...it's a secret. Wink, wink. Nudge, nudge.

Garrett and Sade. Dude, so sad. You had me at PPD. (Postpartum Depression) I think we all experience it, if we're moms. It's that overwhelming bone crushing, what am I supposed to do now, feeling. Sure you have your good days, but mostly it is bad days. You don't want to get out of bed, you hate staying in bed. You should be with your child, but your child is crying and gah, I don't want to deal. You nailed it, Angel. You got it and to add in everything that happened with Sade and Garrett, whoosh. What a roller coaster. I loved the love they have for each other, that tender caring of his that just makes you want to root for them. But, it was also that strong dominant hand that, coaxed and pulled her from that black hell and brought Sade back once again. I absolutely loved their mini-story.

But again, LUNA!!! What the ever loving hell, woman?!

I digress.

Ethan and Ava. Oy, okay can I start this by saying, OMG, I would have had to slap a woman. clears throat Notice I didn't call them foul names, even though they were on the tip of my tongue? Yeah, I'm good like that. Anyway, so Ava and Ethan are different. These two have had this almost movie like relationship. I mean end of the world, with aliens and explosions and ~~snotty-uppity-bitches~~ women who don't show up till well, this story. (Sorry had to get that in there. I mean really, I didn't call them a bad name, but I did call a spade a spade.) Ava is anxious. Of that I am certain. She's not sure she'll ever fit in with Ethan's family or his life and he has to prove after his mom just about ruins it. He's not the man his family is, but the man she loves. So he gets a little role play going and the sparks fly. Whispers I want his conference room table...just sayin. In the end, once again love wins.

Which leaves me with Tait, Luna and Kellan.

If you haven't noticed by now, I'm a tad bit upset. I mean really, come on peeps, can you blame me? I mean hello, LUNA! The woman who almost got Z killed goes and falls for Tait, who also falls for her? She was crazy rolled up in a multicolored ball Rainbow Bright ball. (She literally could have tasted like rainbows...which then Kellan could have said did you taste the rainbow...lol I crack me up. Back to the review) I mean really? I felt betrayed. I felt used. I THOUGHT I WAS YOUR FRIEND, Angel!! But, then I started reading about her in Ethan and Ava's book and well, I kind of liked her. I felt bad for her. The expression, "We need another, Timmy," popped into my head more than once while reading about her. By then, I was invested in her, and so what if she was a little on the loco side. So what if she helped Mau and almost got Zeke killed. She was the ultimate anti-hero if I ever saw one. So, I liked her a bit. I wasn't completely on board for the "lovefest," but I was happy for Tait, because that's all that matters. Right? RIGHT!!

And then BOOM! Stuff happened and now... UGH! We need to talk, I mean seriously? Here I was thinking a sexy menage would happen. Our crazy but heroic Luna was going to redeem herself and get her men, but alas... I cried, Angel. I wept real salty tears of sorrow. I even had snot bubbles while pouring a 40ozer on a camera lens and singing Boys 2 Men. It wasn't pretty, I can promise you that. I might have even taken a couple of swigs off the bottle, if you know what I mean. winks Why though? Why did you do this to me? (Like you purposely hurt me on purpose. snickers) You gave me this story, which I was totally against in the very beginning and then ripped it away when my mind and my heart deemed it okay to love the sanely-challenged. Trust is a two way street here, Angel. It would be like me saying, I have chocolate chip cookie here for you. And then saying, nah, just kidding...I ate it. Because in the end ~~you ate me~~. (That sounded so much better in my head, than written down.)

Sighs

In the end though, you know I love your books. To pull all this out of me, points up it had to have made an impact. Peeps, if you don't read anything else, read the W I L D er series. You won't regret it, I can promise you that. This 4 part mini-series was a roller coaster from beginning to end and I loved it. I couldn't believe I was done with it when I got to the last page. I wanted more and I must say, I am really looking forward to Tait and Kellan's story. Boy, are they going to have their hands full. So, thank you Angel for another book done right. HUGS

Wondering what happened to Garrett, Sage, Zeke, Rayna, Ethan and Ava after they "got together"? This is a collection of the three couples who have come together in this WILD Boys of Special Forces series. Sometimes, it is better to leave a couple in their happily ever after, because bringing them back can be a letdown.

Garrett and Sage's story in "Raze the Barn" is depressing. Sage is crazy and the answer to her depression is getting laid with her husband, Garrett. Although, to be fair, if people enjoyed orgasms at least once a week, it would help their outlook. When I read a romance, I don't really care to read about psychological problems. When it takes BDSM to fix this problem, it appeals to me even less. This story didn't work for me at all. The BDSM scene barely redeems this story.

Zeke and Rayna in "Tie the Knots" is a train wreck. Rayna, if a man tells you he isn't good enough for you, listen to him. Walk away. Zeke and Rayna's love match is the least believable of the three couples. Zeke doesn't want to be married with the white picket fence and 2.5 kids. Rayna isn't into kink. They don't seem to see anything eye to eye. Why are they together again? This additional short story with Zeke performing a 180 in his stance is a nasty divorce waiting to happen.

In "Diamonds in The Rain", Ethan once again bring the series up with his consistent loyalty. Plus he still has some of the funniest dialogue. This story I really enjoyed. Ethan and Ava meeting his parents is very telling. Ethan is a wonderful man. Never more so when he defends Ava to his manipulative mom.

"Since it's you asking--" [Ethan's Mom]

"I'm not asking." [Ethan]

She psshed at him. "Don't be insolent."

"Mom, I'm the guy who cut off the president's hand to accomplish shit. I'm. Not. Asking." (pg. 114)

I love how Ethan commands with his "I'm. Not. Asking." Gives me delicious shivers.

The last one in this collection, "Moonrise", is a surprise attack. This is the one with Luna and Tait. Luna is a secondary character I just didn't like at first. She kind of reminds me of Selena Kyle as Catwoman in Batman. She's a person of questionable character. She's not easy to predict. She is a character who grows on a reader. Her self-sacrifice in the last book is a blow to Tait, who is in love with her and stays by her side as much as he can while she is in a coma in the hospital. This story is quite poignant. I loved it. The ending of this is a hook for the next book in this series. It is a very good hook because I want to read a sexy BDSM ménage. I can't wait!

This anthology started out as a dud and ends with a surprise bang. The first half of the book can be skimmed through. The last half is enjoyable to be leisurely savoured. Recommended for romance lovers who want to know what happens after a happily ever after.

Ava Snow says

I don't give great reviews I just tell you how I felt about a story. I have loved everyone of these books. It was good to get caught up on the lives of the W.I.L.D boys and the women who tamed them. Ethan (Runway) was my favorite from the beginning but Zeke is running a close second. I absolutely loved how the stories played out.

This will probably get me killed but I wasn't upset with Luna's out come. I believe it gives Tait and Kellen's story more depth and the woman they end up with will be perfect if she can mend them both.

Angel has never disappointed me in anything she's written and I can't wait for the next W.I.L.D. boys story.
