The Fourth Man Lee Child

THE BRAND NEW JACK REACHER STAND-ALONE SHORT STORY THAT SEES REACHER GOING DOWN UNDER FOR THE TIME - BUT POSSIBLY NOT THE LAST. It's a short read, but perfect for a coffee break.

Jack Reacher, ex-military drifter of no fixed abode, is stalked and tracked down by an FBI agent. She tells him that in a house raid in Sydney, Australian law enforcement found a list. There were four people on it, including him. The other three are dead.

Hours later, Reacher is in the air, on his way to Sydney. What was the evil buried twenty-five years ago, that has now resurfaced? Will Reacher be able to find the killers, before they find him?

Wilton314 says

Jack Reacher's first visit to Australia. Turns out he's been one other time.

The Cats Mother says

This is a short story tacked on to the end of Past Tense, supposedly exclusive to the Australia/NZ edition. As with all the other Reacher tidbits, it was over just as I started to get into it, and irrelevant to the main story line, but I liked it anyway.

The FBI track Reacher down in NYC to warn him that a list with four photos has been found in the apartment of an Australian terrorist, three of them have been murdered, and his is the fourth face. Hopping on a plane to solve the problem himself, he arrives in sunny Sydney, and as ever, it doesn't take long for trouble to find him.

I always prefer the first person Reacher stories as we get more explanation and this was a fun quick read. Now I just want to know when Reacher is coming to New Zealand?

Lynn Hutchinson says

Very clever short story, I can imagine it as a longer book too.

Martin Vallance says

Short story is an understatement
