From Reader Review The Perfect Holiday for online ebook

Linda Kopec says

The title is "perfect" for this one. Bea is a ghostwriter who works from home. She has dedicated the past few years to her loser boyfriend, who abruptly breaks up with her. Enter her best friend who takes her to Aspen for the holidays, with the agreement that she will "hook up" and start living again.

Cameron and his partner Glen are lead ski instructors who are at the resort Bea goes to. Cameron is your typical playboy who has a different girl each night and in every town they travel to. Once Cameron sees Bea in the lobby, he is hooked. He has to have her. Their relationship starts with fun, flirty friendship and a pull towards each other that they both feel. After consummating their relationship on New Years, Bea leaves to return to her "regular" life, with the promise of them meeting up in a year - same place, same time.

Things don't go quite as planned for either Bea or Cameron. You'll have to read this story to find out what happens and how they find their HEA, plus one! I received an advanced reader copy of this book.

Well Mia Ford has done it again and penned for us all the perfect Christmas story in 'The Perfect Holiday'. Bea is a ghost writer and works from home and has the worst boyfriend ever who leaves - thank goodness. her best friend, Hailey, takes her to Aspen skiing and to have FUN! Now it just so happens that Cameron and Glen, best friends and partners in skiing, are also there. Glen is getting sick of the ski bunnies hooking up and wants to settle down which makes Cameron break out in a sweat. Well, that is, until he spots a stunning young woman in the lobby but she disappears before he can get to her. However, happily the next day they meet as Hailey and Bea have signed up for their ski class. Cameron and Bea are both very obviously smitten with each other. In fact, no woman has ever made Cameron feel like this before. They flirt, chat all night and then begins their sizzling holiday fling. But is this just a fling??? It doesn't feel like that to either of them but both are afraid to push too much in case they frighten the other off. So they agree, that they will meet back here in Aspen in one year if neither of them have moved on. But can you actually imagine waiting 12 long months to see again the one person that fills your every thoughts? That one person who makes your heart beat. The one person who makes life worth living?? Of course not so they start looking for one another which poses to be difficult as they didn't even swap phone numbers! Can they really last that long without each other? Passion such as they found with each other is so special. Also Bea has a surprise for Cameron. To find out you're going to have to do what I did and buy the book to find out. It was well worth the time to read this story plus the bonus books will also entertain you and are worth the book price alone too. I voluntarily reviewed an advance reader copy of this book. I also got a copy through Kindle Unlimited then purchased a copy for myself so that I could read this again as it's so good.
DEFINITELY RECOMMENDED.

Romancing? The Snow?

ARC received for a voluntary and honest review.

?Ski Instructor Romance

Cameron???? is a top ?ski instructor and a top class cad, a heel, a womanizer. He travels around during the winter, spending about a month at each resort, teaching beginning skiing ? and bedding all the snow bunnies he can get his hands on. He and his buddy, Glen, have been doing this for about eight years. His buddy wants to find a wife and settle down, he's tired of it. For Cameron????, it seems to be his preferred way of life! Cameron???? is the eternal playboy, he just thinks with his nether regions? and how many times he can get laid.

Bea? is a free lance ghostwriter who works from home and lives in a town a few miles from the resort. She is involved in a crappy one sided relationship? with a self centered uncaring jerk, but she hasn't quite realized it yet!

How do these two people meet up and find love??

YEHAW! Ride em Bareback?, Cowgirl!????

The book has Cameron???? falling in insta love? and chasing an elusive Bea around the resort, seeing her from windows and getting on the elevator, etc. When he gets there, she's always gone. I just didn't feel the love? from him, changing in an instant like that.

I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of this book. I absolutely enjoyed this Sexy hot holiday read by Ms Ford. Cameron and Bea had such great chemistry and the story line was so sweet. Cameron may come across as a dog at the beginning but once he meets Bea he turns into a man on a mission to get the girl. Bea has recently broken up with her controlling and disrespectful boyfriend and her friend has invited her to Aspen for the holidays. She is drawn to Cameron from the beginning. However, she wants fate to lead them. Cameron decides to help fate along and peruses her. Bea agrees to spend time with Cameron and they part once the New Year comes, again Bea says she wants to have fate decide if they meet again. They both agree to see what happens come the next new year. This was such a great read for the holiday season. Will they meet again? What happens when they do? Will they get their HEA?

This is one beautiful love story about Cameron who is a ladies man who is a traveling ski instructor with his friend, Glen and Bea who is a reserved woman who is a ghost writer. Bea and her friend, Hailey head to Aspen for the holidays after Bea breaks up with her boyfriend who was not a nice or good man. Hailey gets Bea to start living and to find a hook up and go home a new woman! Cameron sees Bea and knows right away there is something special about Bea and does whatever is needed to meet her. Fate seems to be a big part of their story and how it unfolds makes this a purely lovely story!! They start a relationship with friendship and actually get to know one another before jumping into bed. Once New Years Eve comes they have a special date planned and make the most of their last night together. Things are rushed the next day and Bea stops Cameron from speaking and she makes a promise to meet Cameron in one year back at the resort. Life continues for them each along with a surprise and one wondering around lost without the other. They seem to either be one step ahead of the other or three steps behind and end up having to wait the year to see each other again. Will Cameron keep his word and show up and will he be happy to see Bea? Finding what works is not always easy to plan but in the end can it all be worth all the struggles along the way! Will fate bring Bea and Cameron together? I voluntarily reviewed an Advanced Reader Copy of this book.

R.K. Tejaswi says

Cameron, Ski instructor at a resort in Aspen, wants to reach more heights in his career, obviously a playboy who is not ready to settle with true love and love sleeping around. Bea is a freelance writer, in relationship for three years with her arrogant boyfriend, who doesn't cares for her. She finally breathes in the freedom air, when he himself breaks up with her, so she leaves with her best friend for Aspen to feel the change she needs. But when both them meet everything changes. I voluntarily reviewed an ARC of the book, though i honestly loved the book. This is a amazing piece of love story, where a beautiful girl puts an playboy off his guard with just her glimpse. I loved the way they get attracted to each other with their looks and move step by step knowing each other and falling for them. Cameron completely changes his style of picking up girls and wanting only one even when both of them are away from each other, the way he still thinks about and not being the man he was before, was really amazing. Mia Ford has stole my heart with both Cameron and Bea, character with the way, how they struggle with their emotions through out the story. This book worth, anyone's time and money to spend with.

R says

Cameron, you're a drifter. Okay, okay. So, it's your job, going from one ski resort to another, and teaching snow bunnies how to... ski. It's a lifestyle you firmly cling to, in spite of your friend and business partner, Glen, who is starting to long for something more from life.

Well, never mind. You could do this forever. And no woman has ever even come close to making you think about settling down.

Oops! Be still my heart. There she is... across a crowded room... Oh, yeah. You're about to turn into every cliché in the romance vernacular... And before we know it, you're a family man. How 'bout that? Maybe there's hope for you yet.

I wasn't really sure I liked Cameron at first. He rattled cage a bit... But then, he just needed a wake-up call, and Bea had his number...

Sorry for all the clichés. Sometimes I can't help myself.

The bottom line: All at once well written, frustrating, hilarious in spots, and heart wrenching in others. What more could I ask for?

5 stars.

Honest ARC REVIEW.

I received this book as an ARC review.

I love how they come together in a different way than meeting at a bar, club, or boss type setting. This seemed more natural. I also liked how they didn't fall in between the sheets in the first chapter. I also love the back drop of a ski vacation.

Bea was just dumped right before Christmas by her douche of a boyfriend. Her bestie takes her out for a girls trip so she won't have to be alone at Christmas.

In walks our hero, Cameron. He is used to girls falling at his feet. Bea gives him a run for his money as she is smart and beautiful. He has to try and actually seduce her. He sees there is more than a quickie, but long term happiness with Bea.

They have their share of ups and downs especially with the surprise baby. But in the end they make it work. They become a family.

Raecharmed says

Bea is a ghost writer and when her boyfriend breaks up with her instead of feeling sad about it she feels like she's been set free. Her and a friend decide to take a trip to Aspen learn to ski and hang out there for the holidays. Cameron is a ski instructor and is used to having his pick of the woman at the ski lodge however he didn't count on meeting Bea. Bea and Cameron spent time getting to know one and another before they ended up in bed. Cameron was shocked to find that he could actually talk to her about real things. On New Years Eve they end up in bed together after having a special night. However the next morning is rushed due to Bea and her friend having to check out. She won't give Cameron a chance to talk just says that they could meet back up next year at the same place basically leaving it to fate as to whether they'll still want to be with each other. Things happen and they both spend months trying to locate each other with no success. Will they both find each other the following year?

I loved this story once I started I couldn't put it down and didn't want it to end. Mia For has a way of bringing her readers into her books with every word she writes. This was an amazing story with great characters.

I voluntarily read and reviewed this book.

Reva Parks says

Angie has been working for more than two years in an English speaking school in a rich middle east country in order to earn as much money as possible to pay for her mother's cancer treatment. After chemo and radiation treatments, now the doctors are recommending expensive surgery that Angie and her parents don't have money for. Then a young man in jeans and a button down shirt speaks to her at the gate of the school after watching her deliver her kids to their parents at the end of the day. The exchange is short, but he is back again the next day with the same result. By the third day, they manage to exchange names. The fourth day, he talks her into going down the street to the market. After eating from the stalls and enjoying each other, he forces her to accept an elaborate scarf resulting in Angie telling him off because of his arrogance and running home alone. The next day he shows up dressed to the nines in an expensive suit and driving a Lamborghini with a confession that he is Rami the ruling sheikh's son and that marrying her would allow him to win a bet and he will pay her $500,000 to marry him. Since he is so handsome and rich and the money would save her mother's life, she agrees to marry him! What? How can this possibly work? This journey makes excellent reading as they manage to arrange several outings, a proposal caught by the paparazzi, to tell their separate sets of parents and weather misunderstandings from their lack of love and understanding for one another. Will they make it to a marriage ceremony? Will they still hate each other? I recommend this book. I volunteered this review from an ARC.

This is the 1st book I read by Mia Ford. I'm sorry I stopped reading this story at chapter 5 because this didn't hold my interest.

Laila Viking says

Very well written short story with great storyline and plot. Full of expanse and hotness. I like that the characters are relatable and likeable. I like the twists and the challenges the story has. I like the main characters and how they develop. A very fast paced story. They meet at a skiresort and he teaches her to ski. They have fling but gets a surprise and have to deal with it.

The story is with a twist and a very enjoyable read. The epilogue is very welcomed and gives the story more to it and it finishes better of than without it. It is written in dual POV which gives the reader much more of the thoughts and feelings of the main characters.

There are baby surprise, passion, emotions, hot scenes and lots of chemistry in this amazing story.

I received a copy of this book and am voluntarily leaving a review.

OMG!!! Mia Ford has really out done herself with this book. This is the perfect holiday read. Hallmark Movie worthy!!!! I loved this book! It is my absolute favorite of hers to date.

In this story Bea is in a horrible relationship and it is coming to its end. After a fight with her boyfriend ending in goodbye, Bea's best friend Hailey forces her to take a vacation with her to Aspen for the holidays.

Cameron is living the life of single traveling playboy. Moving from ski resort to ski resort teaching rich hot ski bunnies to ski with his best friend, is the perfect life for him and he is in no hurry to settle down. He gets to love em' and leave em'. PERFECT! Every year they are booked for the month of December until New Year's day at the most exclusive resort in Aspen. His favorite job ever. The chicks are hot, the snow is real and the luxury is amazing. PERFECT! But Cameron's best friend is tired of traveling from town to town. He is looking to find someone to settle down. Cameron is worried he might just be on his own working before long.

One day during a relaxing day in the lounge, Cameron's eye catches sight of the most beautiful woman he has ever seen. He chases after her to try to find out who she is, but to no luck his mission is hopeless. When the mysterious woman winds up taking his class he is more than thrilled. He has not been able to get her off his mind.

After class Bea and Cameron talk till night and then he walks her to her room only to agree to let fate make their paths cross again. But Cameron is not letting fate control this meeting. He can't get her off his mind, so he takes matters into his own hand and stalks her door the next day. From then on they spend all Cameron's spare time together and on New Year's Eve they spend the night together making mad passionate love. The next day Bea tells Cameron to leave it to fate for them to meet again next New Years if they have not moved on. So Cameron leaves with no exchanging of numbers. Cameron misses her so much and begins to search for her. Will the two lovers find each other again? Or will it be too late for Cameron?

This story was the sweetest romance story I have read in a long time. I laughed, cried and felt butterflies throughout the book. I was so invested to see their journey come full circle. It was amazing.

The characters in this book were so wonderful you can't help but fall in love. An amazing read that flowed flawlessly. I guarantee that you will fall in love too. So go out and get this book. You will not regret it and you will be in for the most romantic tale of all time.

I received this book with the understanding that I could leave a voluntary and honest review.

In this book we meet Cameron and Bea. Neither were looking for more than a good time during the ski season at Aspen. However what they got is a whole lot more. Can two people who are just out for a good time find something that could really last? Or is it all just more than they bargained for?

This is an amazing book that will have you hooked from the first word to the very end. There are some ups and downs I really want to tell you about but don't want to ruin it for any other readers. I will say that I would highly recommend this book to anyone and everyone.
