What do you get when you combine a grimoire, a black cat, and a sexy stranger? Nine romance writers sitting round a virtual campfire have joined together to write a Halloween short story treat.

Ivy Mitchell's life is changed forever after she follows her cat, Karma, into an old house, where she stumbles upon a strange book that not only unleashes her destiny, but attracts a smoking hot, mysterious stranger named Chance with wicked powers of his own. Ivy was born a witch, but an important decision awaits. Make the wrong choice and more than her powers are at risk.

A story in nine parts, each written by a different writer in her own individual style: Lori Connelly, Aileen Harkwood, Zara Stoneley, Kari Lemor, Sarah Lefebve, Carmel Harrington, Teresa F. Morgan, Lynn Marie Hulsman, and Jane Lark.

Katherine Hayward says

This story is a great concept: Fireside Writing. Basically, a group of authors adds their part of the story as the book goes along. The plot is flawless and has a great pace. I loved the characters and the atmosphere. Each author has a great eye for detail but adds in their own personal style to the story. Really enjoyable and unique.

Enjoyable

I really enjoyed this book. I'm afraid it was over far too soon for me !!A nice touch to put in stories that all the authors involved had written.

Good start, want more

As stated, a short story. The end is a beginning, but not so much a cliff hanger. I'd love to read more about each of the characters, alas I must seek books by each of the writers. Would have given more stars if extended into novel.

Verity says

1.5 rating.

I like short stories but this one I felt lacked a plotline that was gripping enough for a short story. Also because parts were written by different authors I don't think it flowed very well.

Silverluna says

An interesting writing concept. Good collaboration ladies! Kept me entertained, which is key in my book... :) Only 4 stars, as I was hoping for another round together. May have been able to get a better storyline out of this one.

Patti Ashley says*Incredibly disjointed

This story was written by different authors, each writing a chapter. A great idea, but the execution was done so poorly. The story is incredibly short, and the rest of the book is filled with ads for other books. A waste of time and money. We really need a rating for books not worthy of finishing.

Rebecca L. Saglime says*A Definite must read.

I Love when books or stories are written like this with various writers. Great story but wish it were longer.

Tabitha says*Where's the rest

Great compilation between authors but seriously that's how you end it? At least give us the idea of a complete story
