For Nora Grey, romance was not part of the plan. She's never been particularly attracted to the boys at her school, no matter how much her best friend, Vee, pushes them at her. Not until Patch came along. With his easy smile and eyes that seem to see inside her, Nora is drawn to him against her better judgement.

I really don't know why I decided to torture myself. Really don't. I'm just going to say that reading this in graphic novel form really highlights all of the sexism and disgusting behavior that permeated the actual book. You get to see the coach in all of his disturbing, student-traumatizing glory. Patch acting like the stalker-douchebag that he truly is, all the while wearing baseball caps (I don't remember him wearing a hat in every scene in the book, but that's just me). And Nora truly looks like the ditzy, bubble gum popping girl she really is.

In regards to the artwork, I actually enjoyed it. The artist has some skill, it's just the dialogue/story that ruins it for me. (And I know; I knew what I was getting going into this, but what can I say, I'm a masochist). Because I have to finish I will be checking out volume two when it comes out later. But I have to ask; why do they split these into two different books? The Twilight Graphic Novel did the same thing (though Twilight was considerably larger). But when Vampire Academy was turned into a graphic novel they managed to fit it in one book. So why not Hush Hush? They're practically the same size.

Madison says

I never knew a book from my favourite series had a graphic novel.. I NEED IT IN MY HANDS NOW

Kogiopsis says

Sorry, BB, but OH SHIT NO.

The only good thing about this book is that that placeholder cover confirmed one of my assertions: baseball caps are not hot. IN THE LEAST. EVER.

Edit: okay, so I have a sick sense of curiosity, but I Googled this and came up with some more sketches. I have to say, the artist got Patch and Nora down. He looks like an asshole and she looks like an airhead. Well done!

Edit #2: BAHAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA FUCK WHAT THE FUCKING HELL IS WITH THIS FUCKING COVER I ASK YOU? That's hilarious. I kind of love it, actually. I mean, his wings are the wrong color. And what the fuck is that expression on his face? Constipation? This book is such a joke. This one, not the original. The original is Serious Business because it is the Lowest of the Low and reminds us of how far the YA genre has fallen. But this is a joke. And apparently all Patch had to fill his time before he met Nora was pump iron, because he's pretty built. Not in the attractive Thor way, either. Imagine if Nora had come along a century later. All that free time, man, I dunno. He might have wound up looking like this Okay, no, I jest. But seriously. That cover, man. That cover...

Lore says

While I do like Hush, Hush, I have to say NO FREAKING WAY to the graphic novel.

They ruin everything. -_-

always

Jamie says

Ummmm....where is the rest of the book? That is the first thing I want to know. This is list priced at $19.95 and it only covers the first 5 chapters of the book?!

So, there really isn't much to say about the summary of this. We meet the characters, Nora, Patch and Vee. Patch teases Nora, Nora doesn't like Patch and feels stalked by him. Mystery man breaks through Vee's windshield to get at Nora. That's it! Nothing more. Seriously. I feel this was a half inch thick teaser.

The good-plot line stuck to the story. Word-for-word enough times even.

The bad-the characters look nothing how the book describes them! Nora is really bad. Wrong hair and she is dressed in clothes I don't see anyone being allowed to wear in school. Point 2: This has too much detail for a graphic novel. Like I said, line for line copying for the book. The graphic novel covers only the first 5 chapter but is more pages than the first 5 chapters even are!

Overall, I really feel this graphic novel is bad publicity for the book and not worth the cost. I really did not like them not finishing. The story hasn't even gone anywhere yet!

*I won this book on mommasaysread.com in a raffle.

Aditi says

As a hush hush fan... I love the concept of this... BUT! Numerous things pissed me off And made me want to throw this piece of shit in the fire.

Let's begin with what I hate:

1. WTF IS WRONG WITH NORAS HAIR? THE BITCH IS SUPPOSE TO BE BRUNETTE! NOT FUCKING BLONDE?
2. WTF IS SHE WEARING? NORAS STYLE IS FAR FROM WHORE- BUT THE ILLUSTRATOR SURE MADE HER LOOK LIKE ONE!!

3. WHY DOES PATCH SOMETIMES LOOK LIKE HES ON KET???

4. WHY DOES VEE LOOK LIKE A FAT DYKE? SHES SUPPOSE TO BE ALL GIRLY AND PRETTY, BUT THIS BITCH LOOK SHE ABOUT TO JUMP IN THE SEA WITH FUCKING WHALES!!

Seriously guys... They need to work on it better next time- it looks nothing like how it was described in the book, obviously the characters are wrong but also the story itself was dull.

TIME FOR WHAT I ENJOYED!

I really loved the concept of a graphic novel for one of my all time favourite book series, some parts of it were enjoyable once I learned to ignore the characters appearance, and the added chapters at the end were somewhat good to a certain level...

Anyway I have no idea what Becca was thinking on letting this crap be published and sold to die hard hush fans, I expected a lot more.. Not all my standards where met, but the main reason I read it was for patch, and I wasn't as disappointed with him as I thought I should be.

I'll be continuing the series when further novels are released, but I will not be paying £15 for it!!! I'd rather wait for a used copy.

So if you're like me... Curious and not afraid to waste your money- you should totally check it out and see what you think.

BUT if you're unsure and not willing to take a risk, DONT FUCKING BOTHER ITS NOT WORTH IT!

Mel says

Is every crappy YA novel being turned into manga-styled graphic novels now?

Arooj says

I don't really like to read graphic novel versions of books, because a) I already know the story so it isn't really exciting for me, and b) I like the version of the stories in my head. But I decided to read the graphic novel version of Hush, Hush because I was curious and, well, for Patch.

The main reason I wanted to read it? I wanted to see some of those steamy scenes between Nora and Patch. For example, I was looking forward to that awesome kitchen scene (all you fans know exactly what scene I'm talking about, riiiiight? grins). But it didn't come, since this only covered part of the whole book. That's ok though, I'm pretty sure it'll be in the next volume!

Nora and Patch weren't exactly how I pictured them. Nora looked completely different, especially the way she dressed. It wasn't like her at all. Most of the time she was wearing this cropped, off-the-shoulder top and I couldn't tell whether she was wearing a tank top underneath that was tucked into her jeans, or if it was her stomach. 'Cause I didn't see a belly button. Anyways, as for Patch, he was just...meh. At times he looked like the Patch I imagined, other times he looked plain creepy.

However, this is just the artist's view on the books, so I don't want to be too judgemental. If that's how the artist saw Patch and Nora, then fine. But I'll stick to the version I have in my mind.

I'm going to read the other volumes - I just hope the smexy scenes stay smexy!

(And being the total geek I am, I had Hush, Hush the novel with me as I read this book to compare. I kept checking to see if they fit together. I almost did this with the Twilight movies before. I'M KIND OF LAME, I KNOW! But I don't care. XD)

Steph Sinclair says

Ahhhhhhhh!!!!!!!

And the madness continues!!!

Is this the new fad in the YA world? Every series must have a graphic novel. Please, spare us the misery!

Merary says

EDIT 1/1/13: I finally got the time to get this book again to take some pictures of it! Now I got proof about what I was talking about! Sorry for the bad quality of some pictures.

Actual rating: 1.5/5 rating

If you want to know my opinion of the actual book click here.

This graphic novel is SHITTY.

The characters in this book look nothing like their descriptions.

Book!Nora Grey: A “smokey-eyed brunette (doesn't makes sense, by the way) with volumes of curly hair that holds its own against even the best flatiron”. She is also described as having long, “bar stool” legs.
Graphic novel!Nora Grey: A blonde bimbo who wears revealing clothes ALL THE TIME. First, she wears this:

And then, she wears a tiny top and short black skirt.

To visit Patch at the arcades.

And sitting suggestively while asking questions. Patch's expression in that scene was priceless.

Also, when she bends down to talk to someone, she has this look on her face that says "I'm ready" and her butt is up in the air, looking like a streetwalker attending her client (She was only saying goodbye to Vee).

Yeah.

In other words, she looks like a cheap ho.

Did she just took off her top JUST to see who was on her window? Holy shit.

"This is ridiculous." I know, right? By the way, she IS wearing a short skirt in that scene.

Book!Jev "Patch" Cipriano: He is described to have slightly curly, long, black hair, black eyes, and six-foot-one.

Graphic novel!Jev "Patch" Cipriano: Described perfectly, except that he looks like a kid who has taken steroids since birth. And he looks like a pervert. Wait, that's actually very accurate.

Dude, seriously?!

Book!Vee Sky: Is described as being "a few pounds over curvy" with blond hair and green eyes and "closing in on 6ft tall".

Graphic novel!Vee Sky: Has red/brown hair, is chubby and shorter than Nora. That's weird. I thought Nora was about 5 ft 4 in (1.63 m) - 5 ft 5 in (1.65 m). Why is she shorter?

Oh, and she has masculine arms and big breasts. Really big breasts. UGH.

"My boobs, my boobs, my boobs are okay! And no matter what you say I know they're okay. My boobs are okay!"

Book!Marcie Millar: Has strawberry blond hair and freckles concealed under "half a bottle of foundation".

Graphic novel!Marcie Millar: Looks like a stereotypical bimbo. With pigtails and revealing clothes. All that jazz.

That's all she does in here.

In other words: HORRIBLE. TERRIBLE. ATROCIOUS. What the hell was the illustrator thinking?!

The only thing I liked was the short story at the end.

Even though it was mediocre at best.

It was pretty much like this:

(view spoiler)

Have a really good night everybody!

MUAH!!

EDIT 7/30/17:

I'm 9 months too late, but GUYS, WE DID IT!

Cait says

This is the old cover that I'm talking about in my review, just so I don't sound like a raving lunatic:

This has got to be the creepiest and most awkward cover I've ever seen.

What is he even doing? I mean, just look at the pose! It looks like he's either going to:

- A. Go play some weird version of angel football
- B. Just jumped through Nora's window and is about go kill her (out of love, of course)
- C. Is extremely constipated and in dire need to take a shit

I'm going to say a mix of B and C because of his face alone. You only have to look at it for two seconds to think that it's the creepiest thing you've ever seen, not the face of some dark hottie who ~~lusts~~ loves Nora. I understand that graphic novels will look different than the actual book and are supposed to look harder, more edgy, but that has so crossed the edginess boundary that all he looks like now is a stalking creep. Oh, and don't forget the constipation!

I will never, ever read this graphic novel. The only thing I have left to say is this:

[image error]

Oh, and this for some more added randomness to get this horrible book out of my mind

I'm done now.

Edit: So....they changed the picture from his constipated pose to him standing in the wind; pretty much molting everywhere. How is that supposed to be sexy at all? If an emo-looking guy with weird hair stood in front of me molting i'm pretty sure I'd scream and run away, not swoon.

Twizzie says

I Have One Thing To Say About This Book!

WHAT THE HELL!?

Okay, here are the give aways to my 'What The Hell?!':

1. Nora looks like a [beep]when wearing the clothes. No offense but she does.
2. When the attacker is supposed to have grabbed her shoulder he grabbed her wrist instead.
3. The wardrobe: Nuh uh! The skirt she wore was practically underwear! And she rips on Marcie about her clothes. And the shirt she was wearing wouldn't be even allowed to probab;y worn at school.
4. Their teeth look hideous on some of the images. They look like dentures.
5. Nora looks BLONDE! And VEE looks like a brunette, or redhead I couldn't tell.

6. IN class, Her headband is there one second, but gone the next image. Seriously its like a magic show.
ON:Off:ON:OFF:ON:OFF. The whole time.

? Leah. says

Enough with the fucking graphic novelisation of shitty Young Adult books, please. Dear God!

Paulene says

I love the Hush Hush Novel but this! This is just unacceptable. The illustrations are nothing like them and IT IS NOT THEM. This is not patch and nora. The cover is a buff man maybe in his 30's give or take. Patch is a teenager-ish in looks and is lean and taut not beefy. Just right in physique. So I am very disappointed. No offense to the illustrator but This Sucks :I

Jacob Why don't you show them what I mean

Mary Ann says

ewww i don't like the way patch looks :(
