

Lucky in Love

Jo Noelle

Download now

Read Online ➔

Lucky in Love

Jo Noelle

Lucky in Love Jo Noelle

Cowboys & Angels is a collection of companion stories, each with its own plot as a stand alone book, but all sharing the Old West location of Creede, Colorado.

?

Julianne Parker is twenty-four and ready to take her future into her own hands. Determined to succeed and escape an arranged marriage her parents are thrusting on her, she emigrates from Chicago to the new state of Colorado to establish a school in a mining boomtown. Upon arriving, she finds that her adopted hometown is not what she expected, nor is she safe.

?

Hugh Fontaine is poised on the cusp of achieving his every dream, provided he can win the massive fortune on the table of a poker game in Creede, Colorado. Until, through divine intervention, he's set on a path that makes him question who he is and what he really wants. He knows for sure that he wants Julianne Parker in his life, but he's the last thing in the world she needs.

?

But—what would he give to be wrong?

Lucky in Love Details

Date : Published October 25th 2017 by Little Box Press, LLC

ISBN :

Author : Jo Noelle

Format : Kindle Edition 156 pages

Genre : Romance, Historical Romance, Christian, Historical, Historical Fiction

 Download Lucky in Love ...pdf

 Read Online Lucky in Love ...pdf

Download and Read Free Online Lucky in Love Jo Noelle

---

From Reader Review Lucky in Love for online ebook

Pat Christie says

Ebook series

She left home to bring schooling to the tent city of a mine. Little realizing the dangers that were before her. He owns a saloon and feels unworthy but his guardian angel pushes him to seek her and Gods love

---

D'anah says

Good

Really enjoyed the fun aspects of this book. Was uplifted by the changes in the male character's "broken" bits. Good to have the missing females found and restored. Enjoying the series.

---

Marsha Spohn says

Reviewed at Historically Romantic

I was captured by Lucky in Love with the opening pages and this story's grip never let up. I loved every moment of Hugh and Julianne's journey, and what a journey to a happy ending it is.

The neighboring towns of Bachelor and Creede, Colorado are basically mining towns that grew up from the ore finds, and dwindled with them as well. They've had several revivals as more ore and gems are found, but where there are those looking for their fortune there are also those willing to corrupt anything in their paths for pure greed. Unfortunately, at this time Creede is such a town and our hero, Hugh, visits between the two towns with regularity as one holds his own personal business and the other adds to his career. As the story opens we get our first good look at the angel in this particular story – and what an angel this cowpoke is. I loved cowpoke (he is never given another name for us to use) as much as the main characters in this romance. He message is full of strength, flashes of humor, and determination.

Julianne is escaping a forced arranged marriage by answering an advertisement for new residents to come to the town of Bachelor, Colorado. She is wanting to open a school and believes that this is her life's work. But getting there proves... interesting. I'll let you read about Julianne's experiences for yourself. It sure is one way to introduce an heroine that is truly a unique woman. There is a spark between Hugh and Julianne from the very start, yet there are also barriers as well. Watching their romance play out is both heartbreak and heart warming at the same time. The underlying mystery from the first story plays out with increased tensions and danger for several people. I enjoyed the additions to this world and the touches that I'm sure we'll learn more about in future stories. I loved this romance and would happily recommend it to any Western Historical Romance reader who enjoys a strong story, believable characters, touches of danger and humor and a good old fashioned love story.

I read this title through my Kindle Unlimited subscription.

---

Barbara says

The angel in this book is different from the angel in first book. Had a few chuckles about the hints from the angel. My strong woman is here and has decided her future. It is a clean romance. It also has some suspense. Loved the book and can't wait for the next Cowboys and Angels book. Loved this book.

---

Marlene Waldner says

Engaging story

Reading the series - in order or not, provides some insight into Pioneer towns needing the calming influence of brave and God-loving women to begin to nurture western towns.

---

Cindy says

Another good multi author series. I am eagerly awaiting every book's release.

---

Jennifer Hibdon says

Ya-hoo!

This is a cute, fun read! The characters show real emotions and actually work through their problems. The happy ending makes sense. Lots of action.

---

Lisa Rector says

If you love When Calls the Heart, you will love this!

This is the second book I've read by this author. It didn't disappoint. So much like the When Calls the Heart series. Very cute read. The beginning hooked me. This is a Christian read with some talk of faith, but it wasn't over the top. It was done just right, as to be part of the story instead of forced down the reader's throat. A bit predictable, but enjoyable all the same.

Reader Rated for ages 14+ for adult themes such as drinking and gambling, and for mild kissing.

---

Heike says

Christian romance about a saloon owner and gambler falling for a preachers daughter in a Colorado mining town.

What can I say. It was very well written and sweet. I did not expect it to be a Christian novel, and there is a lot of Lord and Jesus, thus my rating is so low, while, to the right target group, I think it would be much higher.

This said: if you like to read about the evil saloon owner who is converted back into His lap - this will be right along your alley!

---

Tamera Westhoff says

Sweet Story

I loved this continuation of the previous story and I really like the angel seems to fit the person each time! I am dying to see what happens in future books!

---

Mary Gallo says

Unfortunately, a slow read

The story was excellent, unfortunately, the author spent too much time on the introspection of the characters. One time, it was 5 pages that the hero spoke to himself, over something that did not need to be discussed that long. The author needs to re read and edit. But the story was awesome otherwise.

---

Sharon says

Hero: Hugh --- Heroine: Julianne

plot/storyline:4.5* strong-engaging- Julianne takes her own future in her hands leaves Chicago to start a school in Bachelor/Creede Colorado (idea from a newspaper ad) . They meet when he helped her out of a tree. He is a gambler and a saloon owner who is struggling with what he wants his future to be like, but gets guidance from a "cowboy angel".

Ending-4.5*- An Amazing HEA. No real cliffhangers (I still wonder about the honesty of the sheriff and what happened to the villain)- This story shows that Love is a rare treasure:)

Reading Enjoyment:4.5* I enjoyed reading this angelic romance with intrigue, drama, adventure that kept me on the edge of my seat and enough chemistry that kept me smiling. The family and friends with its supportive and witty dialogue adds to the enjoyment of the story. Lots of characters that I hope to read about in future books!!

---

Babs says

Julianne has run away from home to escape an arranged marriage her parents have put together. She ends up in Creede Colorado after reading about the Reverend wanting new people.

Hugh owns a saloon and is a gambler. He sees what he assumes is a ghost but is his Angel and is told to leave the card game. He finds Julianne up in a tree and helps her down and is immediately attracted to her but knows he is not good enough.

Julianne wants to be a school teacher and she goes around meeting everyone with the help of the rev's sister. Her and Hugh grow closer until her past comes to meet her. Can they work things out or will she end up leaving?

A nice easy read that keeps you engaged.

---

Donna Weaver says

WHAT IT'S ABOUT

Julianne Parker is twenty-four and ready to take her future into her own hands. Determined to succeed and escape an arranged marriage her parents are thrusting on her, she emigrates from Chicago to the new state of Colorado to establish a school in a mining boomtown. Upon arriving, she finds that her adopted hometown is not what she expected, nor is she safe.

?

Hugh Fontaine is poised on the cusp of achieving his every dream, provided he can win the massive fortune on the table of a poker game in Creede, Colorado. Until, through divine intervention, he's set on a path that makes him question who he is and what he really wants. He knows for sure that he wants Julianne Parker in his life, but he's the last thing in the world she needs.

?

But—what would he give to be wrong?

MY TAKE

I've been a Jo Noelle fan for a while, and I've read all her books. She writes a lot of different genres, and each book has a great heart while containing humor as well. And some great kissing scenes.

Lucky in Love is a different genre than I've read by her before, but I loved it. I really felt for Julianne—I the love the whole running away from an arranged marriage, and the duck out of water scenario is charming. As is Hugh. I love how he rescues her when they first meet. He's in for it but has no idea.

The addition of the angel aspect was a treat. There is talk of religion (there IS an angel and she lives with a pastor's family), so if you're bothered by that kind of thing this book may not be for you. But if you like a sweet romance with engaging characters and an interesting town, this is the read for you.

---

Heather Green says

I loved this book! I loved that the MC always tried to look for the positives in life. I liked how the angel was thrown into the mix. The characters were very likeable. Pretty cool that it was a human trafficking story in the 1800's. Lots of evaluating life choices and working to become better. Clean. No language. No sex. Sweet and a fun read. I would read this one again.

---