Lamb is read a bedtime story by Mama sheep, showcasing the joy of books to tiny tots. The illustrations are done in the simplistic, retro-cool style used in so many modern TV cartoon series. Not as good as Nap Time for Kitty.

(Note: The series title of this book is "Hello Genius," yet I honestly did not feel like a genius after reading it. Please help.)

Love this series. Kids get a chance to read about every day things that happen in their own lives. Not the best of the lot, but good nonetheless.

All the rest in this series are Funny! This one falls flat. He doesn't even try for the funny. Instead we have "heartwarming" rhyming instead. LAME.

Approximate read date... I really liked this one! It's always fun to read a book about reading books! :) Especially when you're reading a bedtime story about a kid (err... lamb) having a bedtime story read to him/her! :)

Pamela says

"Story Time for Lamb" by Michael Dahl was really cute! It was about a Mama Lamb trying to get her baby lamb settled down so she can read to him a bedtime story so he can go to bed. She has him pick out his favorite book and begins to go through the story. And, as she does, he is slowly lulled to sleep by the story. As a parent of a child that never wants to go to sleep, I really appreciated this book. I thought it was a great way to end the night. Unfortunately, a bedtime story doesn't always work. I give it 4 stars.

Baby loved it, but the story was weak. There are much better bedtime stories out there.

A familiar feeling will follow you as you read this book for in it is a nightly bedtime routine.

Mother Lamb allows Baby Lamb to pick out his favorite book and together they enjoy this quiet cuddle time together!

Emily says

I was not very impressed but my 16mo keeps asking for it at bedtime.
