Shwan Majeed says

This novel is based on research in the biography of the Iraqi bookseller after his death in the city of Baquba, east of Baghdad, this is the first novel to read the author and frankly a good novel type and enjoyed it and almost completed in the first three sessions, I do not consider it very interesting but I replied to know the seller of books The dead and what happens in the end.

But it was good, there were things that provoked me, the character of the seller at first spoke about him well and an excellent personality but after the passage of days and events you discover things about personality It makes you hate something, and as I see it would have been better not to get this character out of this kind, because every one of us has advantages and disadvantages, but in this book, the bad side brought us more than good.

The mobility between events and dialogues was not good because mobility was absent and without warning. However, the writer liked that he was provoked by the personality of the bookseller. This is proof of his intelligence. Finally, with the discovery of the murderer and the circumstances of crime, I advise you not to expect anything big. So do not be shocked.
