About 2 1/2 stars actually.

It's been awhile since I read #1-#6, but the story was coming back to me.

Constantine has had his treasure trove of magical implements stolen by the Cold Flame. They are out to get him and all the other mages of the world.

He's in a bind.

Once I've read all the issues I'm missing, I'll be able to put more of this story together in my head but that will probably take another year.
