Koh Liang jun says

The first two books and the fourth one was interesting
But the third one put me off for a while

Cicely says

I read the first book when I was about nine and loved it. It was haunting and intriguing - a mix of magic, supernatural and normal life too. The other books were all just as good as I read them, even as I grew older and particularly enjoyed the fact that the locations of the books were so varied and interesting.

Anet says

this series is originally called " the power of 5", and there is one last book called " OBLIVION".
These 4 books show that Horowitz has an extremely good literature skills, and these series also prove that he has a great sense imagination.

Aakanksha lohia says

The first one and the last one were amazing but the two mid ones got a bit boring for me at some part. In all they are a must read.

Jordan says

Very Very Very Very Good. 10/10 would recommend for fantasy readers.

Pagesonfire says

I was hooked after the first book and I couldn't put down the other books after that. It's quite action-packed and I wanted to read more about what happens between the characters. I look forward to reading the fifth installment of the Power of Five series - "Oblivion."
