With Friends Like These ReShonda Tate Billingsley

The third book in an exciting and inspiring new series from national bestselling author ReShonda Tate Billingsley

Only one girl will be chosen....

In the year since Camille, Alexis, Jasmine, and Angel joined Rachel Jackson's church youth group, the four best friends have bonded over boys, pitched in on community projects, and shared their deepest secrets. There's nothing they don't know about each other -- or is there? When a special guest arrives at Rachel's group and announces auditions for a television talk show, the girls will come to know a side of each other they never knew existed. And they may not like what they see.

Will the four friends become enemies?

The race to find the perfect host for KRCP's Teen Talks is heating up -- the competition is fierce, and so are the lies the girlfriends tell about each other in order to win the coveted spot. But more painful than any lies they can concoct is the cold, hard truth: none of them will reach their ultimate dreams if cutting each other down is how they choose to get ahead. Is winning a place in the spotlight worth losing their friendship?

I am currently reading 'With Friends Like These (Good Girlz, #3) by Reshonda Tate Billingsley. Her writing is very similar to Ni-Ni Simone who happens to be my favorite author. So far I find the book very relatable to my own life. I'm a teenager, avid churchgoer, and media socialite like that of Camille, Angel, Alexis and Jasmine. They are the main characters. Each of them come from different backgrounds yet they all remain friends regardless of the things they've been through. They all joined a girls youth group program to help them out for a number of reasons.

3 1/2 Stars. This was an ok book. The plot was decent and the message good, but I just could not get into the story until around page 40. Even after that, I had no strong emotional reactions to the plot making for a bland reading experience. And although I could sympathize with the characters at times, I just could not connect with them.
