Going Off-Script Jen Wilde

A TV writer's room intern must join forces with her crush to keep her boss from ruining a lesbian character in this diverse contemporary YA romance from the author of Queens of Geek.

Seventeen-year-old Bex is thrilled when she gets an internship on her favorite tv show, Silver Falls. Unfortunately, the internship isn't quite what she expected... instead of sitting in a crowded writer's room volleying ideas back and forth, Production Interns are stuck picking up the coffee.

Determined to prove her worth as a writer, Bex drafts her own script and shares it with the head writer?who promptly reworks it and passes it off as his own! Bex is understandably furious, yet...maybe this is just how the industry works? But when they rewrite her proudly lesbian character as straight, that's the last straw! It's time for Bex and her crush to fight back.

Jen Wilde's newest novel is both a fun, diverse love story and a very relevant, modern take on the portrayal of LGBT characters in media.

When Bex Porter heads to Hollywood to become an intern at her favorite TV show (of all time) she is scared, nervous, thrilled...you name it. Once the job starts, Bex quickly learns that her boss, Malcolm, doesn't like the other writers so he loathes Bex. Trying to prove that she belongs, Bex writes a script for an episode with a storyline that Bex (and the rest of the queer fandom) have been dying for. When Malcolm passes Bex's script off as his own, Bex is hurt and angry but keeps quiet to keep her job. Yet when Malcolm screws over the queer character Bex so lovingly wrote about, Bex realizes she can't keep quiet. With a little help from her friends, and her crush, Bex takes on the man.

Jen Wilde is one of my favorites and this book doesn't disappoint (I could hardly contain my excitement when some of my beloved characters from Wilde's previous books made appearance!)

Thanks to Swoon & MPS for the ARC!

please just. just don't turn out like SHIP IT. i mean.....i doubt it will but.....SHIP IT really wrecked me for plots like this even though this seems 1000% more realistic and less gross.

This book was received as an ARC from Macmillan Children's Publishing Group in exchange for an honest review. Opinions and thoughts expressed in this review are completely my own.

When I first heard about this book I did not know what to expect but being a huge fan of Hollywood and what goes on behind the scenes, I was immediately drawn to this book. A lot of young patrons are curious in learning more about LGBTQ and wanting more stories reflecting on the matter and the relationship Bex and Jenna have with each other a lot of our readers can relate to. Also, in reflecting of the most common problem with new upcoming writers wanting to make it in the Hollywood industry, an idea gets pitched to the executives and then they like it way too much that instead of giving you credit they pass it off on their own. This happens a lot in showbiz and I love the determination Bex has in order to fight her battle and win over the producers and executives and hopefully the girl of her dreams.

This will be considered for our JFiction collection at our library and that is why we give this book 5 stars.

releases: 21 May 2019

okay, okay, I'm going to need y'all to read this blurb. It is about a teen writer. Her boss rewrites her lesbian character as straight. And then she and the actress launch a #DontHideYourGays campaign against the studio and fall in love along the way. GOD BLESS. This book will be about media representation and dating in the public eye and all that good shit.
