Thea Stilton and the Mystery in Paris by Thea Stilton is a very adventurous book. This book is about the Thea Sisters going to Paris because of Colette's fashions and family. Then something horrific happens her designs have been snatched. The sisters think they know who the sneaky culprit is until something even bigger happens. Will the Sisters catch the thief before the big show or will they walk away empty handed. This book is filled with adventure, mystery, and best friends who help Colette out. Thea always makes her books hard to put down that's why I think readers love her books. Her characters all have there own individuality but yet come together and do incredible things. These books are great to read if you have a free weekend or just want to get a good book to read in a short amount of time.

I read this book mostly because when I was younger I loved the Thea books and had always wanted to re-read this one, but it was always checked out at the library. I finally found it!

While it wasn't as fun as when I was younger (it is written for 8-12ish), I still enjoyed the book and I didn't solve the mystery myself before the Thea Sisters did. Which is surprising because I had read this book once already and I ALWAYS remember what happens in books.

(I love the pictures in these books. It's worth the read for the pictures)

I don't know if I would suggest this book to my friends, but for my younger sister or other young girls, it's a great read.

I read this book, when I was doing the 20-30 min challenge, and the funny thing is this book took me like an hour to read when I was young and now it takes me 30 min or less. ! It's crazy! FOund it in my kid book section at home. I would recommend this book if you were doing the 30 min challenge like me!

i started to read this book because i have read many other Geronimo Stilton adventures and because this book was going to be about his sister it made me more excited because it is another demintion in his life.

The category i have out this in is A fantasy book because of how it helps you imagine a mouse , kid like world.

i like this book because of Thea Stilton represents women and girls in the world and how they can standup to older and bigger people then her which helps me think and want to do the same.

i didnt like that this book was so short , if it had gone longer i think the story would have made a bigger and better dimension to the book which would of wanted me to get more interested in the author.

i would reccommend this book for girls because of how the adventures of Thea teaches girls about being willingful and fearless.

This was quite a fabumouse story! The Thea Sisters, five teen-aged mice from all over the world that are best friends, are all going to Collete's home city, Paris, for vacation. While there, Collete's cousin, Julie, is preparing for her fashion show. However, someone steals her entire collection! It is up to the Thea Sisters to find the culprit and help Julie. While the actual plot is very predictable, the format of the book is very welcoming to beginning chapter book readers. There are bright pictures, bigger font, and different colors and styles of font that pepper the text and make it rather jazzy. Younger readers that might be scared of reading boring black and white text chapter books will welcome the bright words. Another cool feature is that there are informational sidebars about some of the aspects of French culture, which will help the young readers learn about French culture while they enjoy this cheerful mystery. The only fault to me is that at times all of the features, like the colors and sidebars, can be distracting. Overall, this book is highly recommended for readers ages 7-11.

I think this is one of the best Thea Stilton books I have read so far. I think it is the best because it shows how greed can "blind" people.

Collette's cousin in Paris invited the Thea Sisters to her fashion show. But a few days after they arrived in Paris, her designs were stolen. Apparently, her teacher had stolen them. She made her dresses by copying a map and making dresses based on the different sections. And her teacher wanted this map because it led you to a very old, sacred, priceless dress. But in the end, the Thea Sisters found out and the teacher said sorry.

Limau Nipis says

Borrowed this from my daughter. A light hearted and fun read.

When Julie's collection for her college fashion show was found to be ruined, they suspected someone was jealous with Julie.

This is a straight forward mystery. I figured who is the criminal halfway thru the book.

Anyway, the illustrations and the history part was wonderfully done. Suitable for age 7-12

Thea Stilton and the mystery in Paris

In an exiting series, of Geronimo Stilton series Thea Stilton, his adventurous sister narrates her students adventure in Paris the city of fashion. Collete, Pam, Nicky, Polina, and Violet also known as the Thea sisters are visiting Paris for spring break. Collete's cousin Julie is standing at fashion camp when things get fishy!Ugh! Well fear or not the Thea sisters are hear to save day! One day Julies room was broken into thankfully she left her computer at home so nothing stolen. Of course Julie was the top student but when the Thea sisters investigates they found out every one was jealous of each other Duh! Tragedy strikes the next day because all of Julie gowns are stolen now how will Julies attend the fashion show everyone was disappointed especially her fashion history teacher. Enough is Enough! Time for the Thea sister to take their turn. Now who would a dress with a treasure map to the most beautiful gowns by the worlds famous designer. Now who would remember such a historical fantasy? Of course!Mr. Hugo LeBlane,the history teacher caught red handed but that crazy gown has ripped all of Julie's gowns! Now what! Well time for the Thea sisters to brain storm. Hey why not a regular map of the home town? For Collete it be a France gown,Violet:China Nicky:Australia,Polina :Peru,Pam:Tanzania. Hmmmmm... seems like a plan. And guess who Rocked the fashion show and won..... JULIE and guess who solved another problem the.....

I've recommended this series to kids for years...without ever having read a single book. Well, finally, I now have.

The story is a mystery with mice as characters. What kids love about the books are full-color illustrations among text that makes a real chapter book. And on each page are a half-dozen or so illustrated words, and every story has lots and lots of mice-inspired puns.

Quite fun!
