This is, by far, my favorite book in the series. I felt I had grown up with these characters and it broke my heart to see my young minded OTP in peril. I've always said this series was what developed my love for reading and this book was just gold. I think I re-read it about 100 times. I think it came together very well and I was satisfied with the ending. I'd recommend it to any young readers out there xx

Yay for Max and Linden. Although I am a bit upset... you wait ten books for some romance and all they give you is... well. very little. It takes her till the VERY LAST PAGES to even get anything started. Thats a little annoying.. but meh. At leash they do get together...

Deborah certainly left the best book 'till last.

It was fantastic!

I couldn't put the book down, there were too many amazing plots, and cliffhangers. I've even read the book again three extra times.

And my goodness the ending!

The romance between Max and Linden at the end... I loved it!

Some people are saying that there wasn't enough of it but, I think there was enough.

Think about it, they were both only 13 years old!

They shouldn't be having TOO much romance.

I also loved how much all the characters developed from the first book in the series "In Search of the Time and Space Machine". Toby's development was the best. From being the mean school bully that always teased

Max, to being an awesome, smart, funny but caring superspy with Max. He especially showed these qualities in this book.

So to sum it up, this book has certainly been my most favourite in the series. I was sad though that the series had to end. I read this series almost 3 years ago and it was the first series I had ever read and completely enjoyed so I was in fact devastated when it ended. I really have missed Linden and Toby's humor, Max's clumsiness but wittiness and most of all the amazing, fun journey they had which I felt like I went through with them too.
